

FLUXX ventures into the Spanish lottery market

- Controlling interest in Madrid-based online lottery service provider
- B2B model to be transferred to the Spanish market
- Distribution of online internet platforms for portals and lottery providers

FLUXX AG (ISIN DE0005763502) will also be offering its lottery and betting products and services in the Spanish market in the future.

To this end, FLUXX will acquire a controlling interest in the Madrid-based company DigiDis Digital Distribution Management S.L. The aim of the joint project is to sell online lottery platforms to established lottery providers and internet portals in the Spanish market. An agreement to this effect was concluded between the two parties, and the Supervisory Board of FLUXX AG today granted its approval. The intention is to implement the partnership by the time tickets for the Spanish Christmas lottery „El Gordo“ go on sale in November.
