

Leading Asian operator, Pansy Ho, joins MGS Summit speaker lineup

The Macau Gaming Equipment Manufacturers Association (MGEMA), the local association that has organised the show since its inception five years ago, has confirmed that one of the most influential operators in Asia, Ms. Pansy Ho, Executive Chairman and Managing Director of Shun Tak Holdings Limited and Vice Chairman and Secretary-General of Global Tourism Economy Forum, will be providing her insight as part of the prestigious panel of thought-leaders at this year's MGS Summit. The speaker lineup for the MGS Entertainment Show Summit at The Venetian Macao will feature some of the most significant and knowledgeable people in the regulatory, government relations, gaming, entertainment and technology worlds. Other speakers including Mr. Paulo Martins Chan, Director of Gaming Inspection and Coordination Bureau, Mr. Wilfred Wong, President of Sands China Ltd., Dr. Tong Kalok, Principal Partner of Baker Tilly Certified Public Accountant, Dr. Wang De Pei, Vice President of China Society of Economic Reform, Mr. Chau Cheok Wa, Chief Executive Officer and Director of Suncity Group, and Mr. Thomas Pang, Chief Executive Officer and Director of Meg-Star International, will also speak at the MGS Summit.

The focus of day one of the summit is the Belt & Road and Smart City, Smart Economy. With speakers from the Macau government, Macau's famed integrated resorts and major international tech firms. The insights on the future of smart cities will be indispensable to anyone interested in the technological evolution of cities. Professional speakers from the industry will share on the idea of how smart technologies can integrate with different businesses will be held in the afternoon.

The morning sessions on the second day of the summit are supported by MGS Supporting Entity – ChinaJoy, the hugely influential digital entertainment show and conference held each summer in Shanghai. With speakers elucidating current trends in mobile gaming, this series of talks will be highly valuable to anyone considering a business model that will tie into mobile applications. Macau Electronic Competition Association, a newly established local eSports association, will also be supporting the MGS Summit and talk about the eSports technology development in Macau.

The series of talks that afternoon were supported by MGS Main Co-Organiser Sinagames. Presenters will discuss a variety of issues surrounding eSports, so these talks will be indispensable to anyone needing insight into the novel ways these popular games connect the real and virtual worlds.

The third and final day of the summit will begin with a keynote speech by Mr. Chio Iao Mak of the Gaming Inspection and Coordination Bureau. The day's focus will be next generation gaming, with speakers ranging from university professors to business consultants giving their perspectives on new regulatory measures, the evolution of gaming equipment, and new gaming jurisdictions in the Asia-Pacific region.

“The summit will piece together the process for building a model that will drive the Smart City, Smart Economy ethos across the world,” says Jay Chun, chairman of the MGEMA. The MGS Entertainment Show 2017 and MGS Summit promises to be a valuable and fascinating series. Registration for the show and summit is now open at www.mgsentertainmentshow.com.
