

ICE Asia Digital 2020 Launches Day 1 With Asian Gaming Outlook, IML Masterclass and Regulatory Predictions

Day 1 of ICE Asia Digital 2020 will kick off today from 5 pm Macau time / 9 am UK time. Launching with a keynote by PAGCOR Chairman and CEO Andrea D. Domingo, the day will focus on gaming operations and how COVID19 has and will continue to impact the industry as a whole. Individual speakers and panel sessions will include discussions around how operators and industry players can strategically navigate the difficult months ahead.

The first panel of the day will focus on Asian Gaming in a post COVID19 world, moderated by Alidad Tash of 2nt8 Ltd. The panel will feature Kevin Clayton, a board advisor and consultant alongside Vitaly Umansky of Sanford C. Bernstein.

IMGL will then host a panel around the regulatory environment with a special focus on Australia, India and Singapore.

The final discussion of Day 1 will include a panel led by Harmen Brenninkmeijer that will review the potential opportunities of digital integration with land-based gaming operations and include Jonathan Petteimerides of Rank Group, Erwin Dickman of Asia Live Tech and Wolfgang Bliem of Casino Luzern.

The day will be moderated by Chris Wieners of HOGO and Joji

Kokuryo of Bay City Ventures.
