But what about the rest?

Join us on June 24 at 15:00 CET for the Gaming in Germany webinar “Brand preference and advertising acceptance in the German online market” to find out!

During this webinar, we will reveal the current brand preferences (specified by product vertical) of a high-quality German consumer panel. We will also report on general attitudes toward gambling advertising, online gambling participation rates, and customer motivations for selecting a specific operator.

If you are a country manager, marketing manager, or business manager at a domestic or international operator interested in the opportunities offered by the regulated German online gambling market, this webinar is not to be missed.

h4. Help shape the Gaming in Germany market tracker

Our webinar will also introduce the Gaming in Germany Market Tracker – a new market intelligence tool that helps you track your brand's performance over time against your competitors.

The Gaming in Germany Market Tracker can be a stand-alone tool to measure brand performance or a neutral check on already available market intelligence.

During the webinar, it will be possible to provide your input on the final questionnaire that will be used during the main research.

Help shape the Gaming in Germany market tracker to suit your market intelligence needs!
