

Novomatic at G2E Asia 2010 in Macao

The G2E Asia show in Macao marks the annual major meeting point for the Asian gaming industry. As such it will also at its 2010 edition see the Austrian gaming giant Novomatic presenting a great range of international as well as region-specific products. G2E Asia will be held from June 9-10 at the Cotai Strip® CotaiExpo™, Venetian Macao.

Austrian Gaming Industries, GmbH, will focus at G2E Asia on the presentation of games specifically designed for the Asian market and featuring a complete translation into the Chinese language. Lucky Lady's Charm™ deluxe, Book of Ra™ deluxe, Sizzling Hot 8™, 8 Jewels, Chicago, Indian Spirit and Xtra 8 are the featured games that AGI will present on booth number 1113. A special range of Super-V+ Gaminator® cabinets will feature exclusive Asian games that will be available with multi-language options including, of course, the Chinese version.

The international Super-V+ Gaminator® multi-game mixes numbers 25-34 and 37-40 will also be on show, presenting thrilling games for top performance and diversified gaming entertainment. The multi-game mixes will be presented in the highly popular Super-V+ Gaminator® cabinets and – for the first time in Macao – in the new Novostar® SL2 slant top cabinet.

The Novostar® celebrated its premiere at this year's London show and is on its way to establishing a firm position on the international casino floors. It is available in three different modular versions and the Novostar® SL caters to the entire range of modern gaming applications: Novostar® SL1 with one monitor for multiplayer installations and Novostar® SL2 with two monitors as well as Novostar® SL3, featuring three monitors, for classic video slot gaming.

Novostar® SL2

On show in Macao will be the Novostar® SL2 with two monitors demonstrating the sophisticated combination of leading technology, futuristic style and ergonomic design for a new brilliance in gaming. The attractive style is accentuated with brilliant, LED illuminated, details that produce elegant shining effects and provoke high guest attention including top recognition value. The ergonomic design of the Novostar® SL cabinet series is further complemented by the innovative Flip Screen Feature (SL2 and SL3) – that allows the guest to ‘flip’ the main screen from the bottom to the top monitor – and an additional start button built into the foot rest. Superior, virtual surround sound with sub-woofer and active satellite speakers as well as high definition touchscreens round off the technical hardware equipment of the Novostar® SL cabinet range and guarantee a gaming experience of maximum impact.

Jens Halle, Managing Director AGI: “G2E Asia as the major Asian gaming show, offers the ideal opportunity to present our products and services to the decision makers of the Asian growth markets. Macao is a great place not only to personally meet with our partners and customers in the Asian region but also to network and establish new contacts in the local gaming industry. I am convinced that our internationally proven and top performing products offer highly attractive benefits and true assets for operators throughout the region.”
