

RGA gives exclusive support to the Totally Gaming Awards

London (11 November) – The inaugural Totally Gaming Awards 2012 have received the exclusive support of the Remote Gambling Association. The Awards have been launched to recognise and reward innovation from across the breadth of the international gaming industry and are being presented on Monday 23rd January 2012, the evening prior to ICE Totally Gaming, at prestigious London venue 8 Northumberland Avenue. Judging of the Awards will be by a panel of influential industry thought-leaders.

Brian Wright, Director of the Remote Gambling Association, confirmed: “The gaming industry, both land based and remote, deserves full credit for the innovation of product and excellence of service provided to customers on a global scale. For this reason the RGA are exclusively supporting the Totally Gaming Awards 2012 as the premier awards night to recognise and celebrate these vital accomplishments in all aspects of gaming.”

Awards will be given across a variety of categories at the event, including best bingo, betting, lottery, mobile and online products of 2011; best manufacturer of the year and best marketing campaign of the year. There will also be two outstanding achievement awards which will be presented to personalities from within the gaming industry.
