

Gaminator™ conquers France

Following the presentation of the Gaminator™ at the ICE in London earlier this year Austrian Gaming Industries GmbH (AGI), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Novomatic Group of Companies, has recently received substantial orders from France for this sophisticated new electronic gaming machine.

Pierre Jenck of Bally France states: "The response of our customers to AGI's latest innovation in slot technology, the Gaminator™, has been overwhelming. So far this year we have sold 120 machines to several casinos all over France including Casino de Bandol and Casino des Palmiers in Hyeres to mention but a few. Players are attracted by the elegance of this silver cabinet with two extra-large TFT screens while operators appreciate the space-optimised stream-lined Gaminator™ for its total depth of only 440mm. Double-monitor cabinets introduce new possibilities for the presentation of exciting 3D animations and additional information screens and dynamic pay tables provide user-friendly interaction adding to player comfort. With this development, AGI has introduced a true innovation and this product line is set to become very successful in France."

The broad range of video slot games available in these brand-new Gaminator™ double monitor cabinets includes Queen of Hearts™ – in the feature little cherubs aid the Queen of Hearts to increase the player's winnings by bringing in more hearts, Lucky Lady's Charm™ – during the free games all prizes are multiplied by 3 and Treasure Ant™ – busy little ants are collecting a full range of attractive prizes and the player is awarded with two different bonus games. Other games ordered for France included: Chilli Con Cash™, Roller Coaster™, Money Money™ and The Search for More Money™.

Mr. Jens Halle, Managing Director of AGI, is very satisfied with the high market acceptance of the Gaminator™ not only in the French market: "We are very pleased that our video game concept which offers an elegant state-of-the art cabinet and games filled with adventure, attractive bonus features and fast playing free games is receiving excellent response from customers world wide."
