

Heber's Whirlwind European Tour

Heber Limited's International Sales Manager, John Malin, will be visiting a number of the major European gaming and amusement industry trade shows over the next few weeks with an aim of promoting the ever growing Pluto and Firefly ranges as well as developing current and potential customer relationships.

John will be visiting shows in the Ukraine, Spain, Poland, Italy and the Czech Republic.

There will also be representatives from Heber at the Hungary and Preview shows.

'This is the start of a very busy time for Heber Limited' said John Malin. 'Visiting these particular trade shows allows us to gain a better understanding of our target and growth markets, as well as visit our ever increasing international customer base. We can then recognise how best we can serve them with our continuing diverse product range.'
