h4. About the Host City—Zhongshan

Zhongshan is well-known as one of the world's most important industrial base of games and amusement. Recently, the local government announced Guangdong Game & Amusement Culture Industry City (GDGame City) one of the key state-supported tourism projects in Zhongshan.

The plan is to make it China's biggest game and amusement technological innovation center in the next five years, and ultimately the world's most influential trading center of game and amusement products and derivatives.
